How does Carrier use cookies or other tracking technologies?

Cookies: Two cookies may be used by this site. The essential one is the session cookie, usually called TotaraSession. You must allow this cookie into your browser to continue and maintain your login from page to page. When you log out or close the browser this cookie is destroyed (in your browser and on the server).
The other cookie is purely for convenience, usually called something TOTARAID. This cookie is only created if the "remember my username" box is checked. It just stores your username within the browser. This means when you return to this site the username field on the login page will be already filled out for you. It is safe to refuse - you will just have to retype your username every time you log in.

In addition, Carrier monitors user traffic patterns throughout its websites according to a user's domain name, browser type, date and time of access, and pages viewed. Carrier's web servers collect the domain names but not the email addresses of visitors to measure the number of visitors to Carrier University and to determine what the Carrier University website users find useful based upon the amount of traffic to particular areas. Carrier uses this information to enhance users' experience at the University website and to better prepare future content based on the interests of users.

HEALTHY BUILDINGS WEBINAR SERIES

Across the globe, the conversation around healthy buildings has taken on a new importance – and at Carrier, we're here to help lead it. Attend our A HEALTHIER FUTURE STARTS INDOORS webinar series to learn more about creating indoor environments that can positively impact human health and productivity at a time when it matters most.

Join Dr. Joseph G. Allen and other industry experts for a healthy buildings overview session, as well as any/all of seven subsequent segment-specific sessions that will discuss those specific applications more in-depth. Each webinar will also feature live Q&As – led by a company that's been driving innovation in air quality and built environments for more than a century, Carrier.

CEU credits are available for those who attend the live (or watch the recorded) session and then successfully pass the associated quiz. Details will be provided in the follow up email you'll receive after each session you attend/watch.

FEATURED SPEAKER

DR. JOSEPH G. ALLEN, DSc, MPH, is an assistant professor at the Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health, and an internationally-renowned expert on the topic of Healthy Buildings and a leading voice in the response to COVID-19. His work has been featured in the Wall Street Journal, Harvard Business Review, National Geographic, Time, NPR, Newsweek, Washington Post, New York Times and Fortune. Dr. Allen's research is widely published in academic journals and he serves as Associate Editor for the journals Indoor Air and the Journal of Exposure Science and Environmental Epidemiology.

"Enroll" for Access to Webinars / Quizzes

The screenshot shows the Carrier University Online interface. At the top left is the Carrier logo and 'Carrier University Online' text. On the top right, there are notification icons, the user name 'Healthy Buildings4', and a search bar with 'Search courses' and a 'Go' button. A navigation menu below the header includes 'My Dashboard', 'Record of Learning', 'Reports', 'Find Learning', 'About', and 'Help'. A breadcrumb trail reads: 'Dashboard > Courses > CU Online > Seminar Series > Healthy Buildings Seminars > HBS Fundamentals > Enrollment options > Enrollment options'. The main heading is 'Enrollment options'. Below it is a card for 'Healthy Buildings Fundamentals' with a document icon and a percentage icon. The card text reads: 'Across the globe, the conversation around healthy buildings has taken on a new importance – and at Carrier, we’re here to help lead it. Attend our A HEALTHIER FUTURE STARTS INDOORS webinar series to learn more about creating indoor environments that can positively impact human health and productivity at a time when it matters most. Join Dr. Joseph G. Allen and other industry experts for a healthy buildings overview session, as well as any/all of seven subsequent segment-specific sessions that will discuss those specific applications more in-depth. Each webinar will also feature live Q&As – led by a company that’s been driving innovation in air quality and built environments for more than a century, Carrier.' Below the card is a dropdown menu for 'Participant'. Underneath, it says 'No enrollment key required.' and features an 'Enroll me' button with a blue arrow pointing to it from a blue circle containing a white plus sign. A callout box with a blue border contains the text 'Click here for access to recorded webinar and quiz'. Below this is another dropdown menu for 'Carrier Participant'. At the bottom, a message states: 'You cannot enroll yet; enrollment starts on Tuesday, July 21, 2020, 11:00 AM.'
