

Container Refrigeration Performance Parts™

*Genuine container parts and service support for Carrier Transicold systems.
For complete peace of mind.*

Genuine Performance Parts and service. The components for complete peace of mind.

Your cargo deserves the best possible protection. And equipment downtime is serious business. Protect your valuable cargo – and your peace of mind – by working with the largest container refrigeration service and parts network in the world. Carrier Transicold.

Genuine Carrier Performance Parts™ offer you OEM quality and performance because there is no compromising on reliability or delivery. Our extensive inventory includes genuine parts for rugged Carrier generator sets as well as both reciprocating- and scroll-compression Carrier container refrigeration systems. Quality replacement parts extend the life of your equipment, reduce maintenance costs, and protect the quality and freshness of your cargo.

Wherever your equipment travels, you can depend on Carrier to stock the parts and consumables you need to maintain peak operating efficiency. To safeguard your investment in Carrier refrigeration. And to safeguard your valuable cargo.

Carrier service centers and warehouses stock more than 10,000 part numbers for container refrigeration.

When your cargo is on the line, only genuine Performance Parts will do.

Unlike other manufacturers' look-alike products, our Performance Parts are built tough to withstand rugged conditions, on land and at sea. Designed and manufactured exclusively for Carrier Transicold container equipment, they provide reliability through the extensive qualification process that only a true OEM part can offer. Don't compromise the life of your equipment investment with substandard parts. Premium performance, long life, and a complete warranty package make Performance Parts the sensible choice for protecting what you value most: your cargo – and your reputation. When time is of the essence, you're never far away from the largest inventory of superior components.

With Carrier Performance Parts, you never have to choose between quality, performance, or value, as they are made specifically for your application and are easy to install.

Genuine Carrier Performance Parts protect your equipment investment and your cargo.
